MAYVILLE
HIGH SCHOOL

Mayville, Wisconsin

Dedication

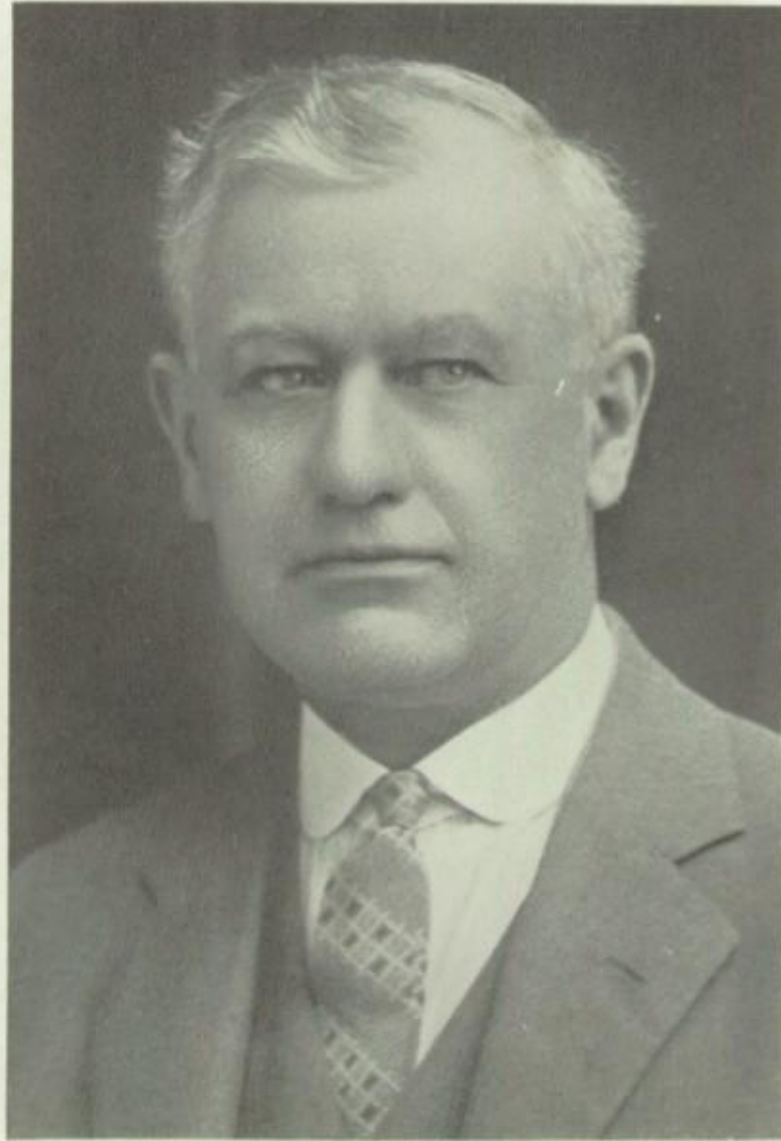

MR. RAY L. DUNN

To Mr. Ray Dunn, who has worked so earnestly to promote the spirit of true sportsmanship in all our athletic activities, whose association with us has been a constant inspiration, and to whom no tribute can fully express our appreciation of his true service and sincere friendship, we the members of the Class of 1931, sincerely dedicate this Rocket.

MAYVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

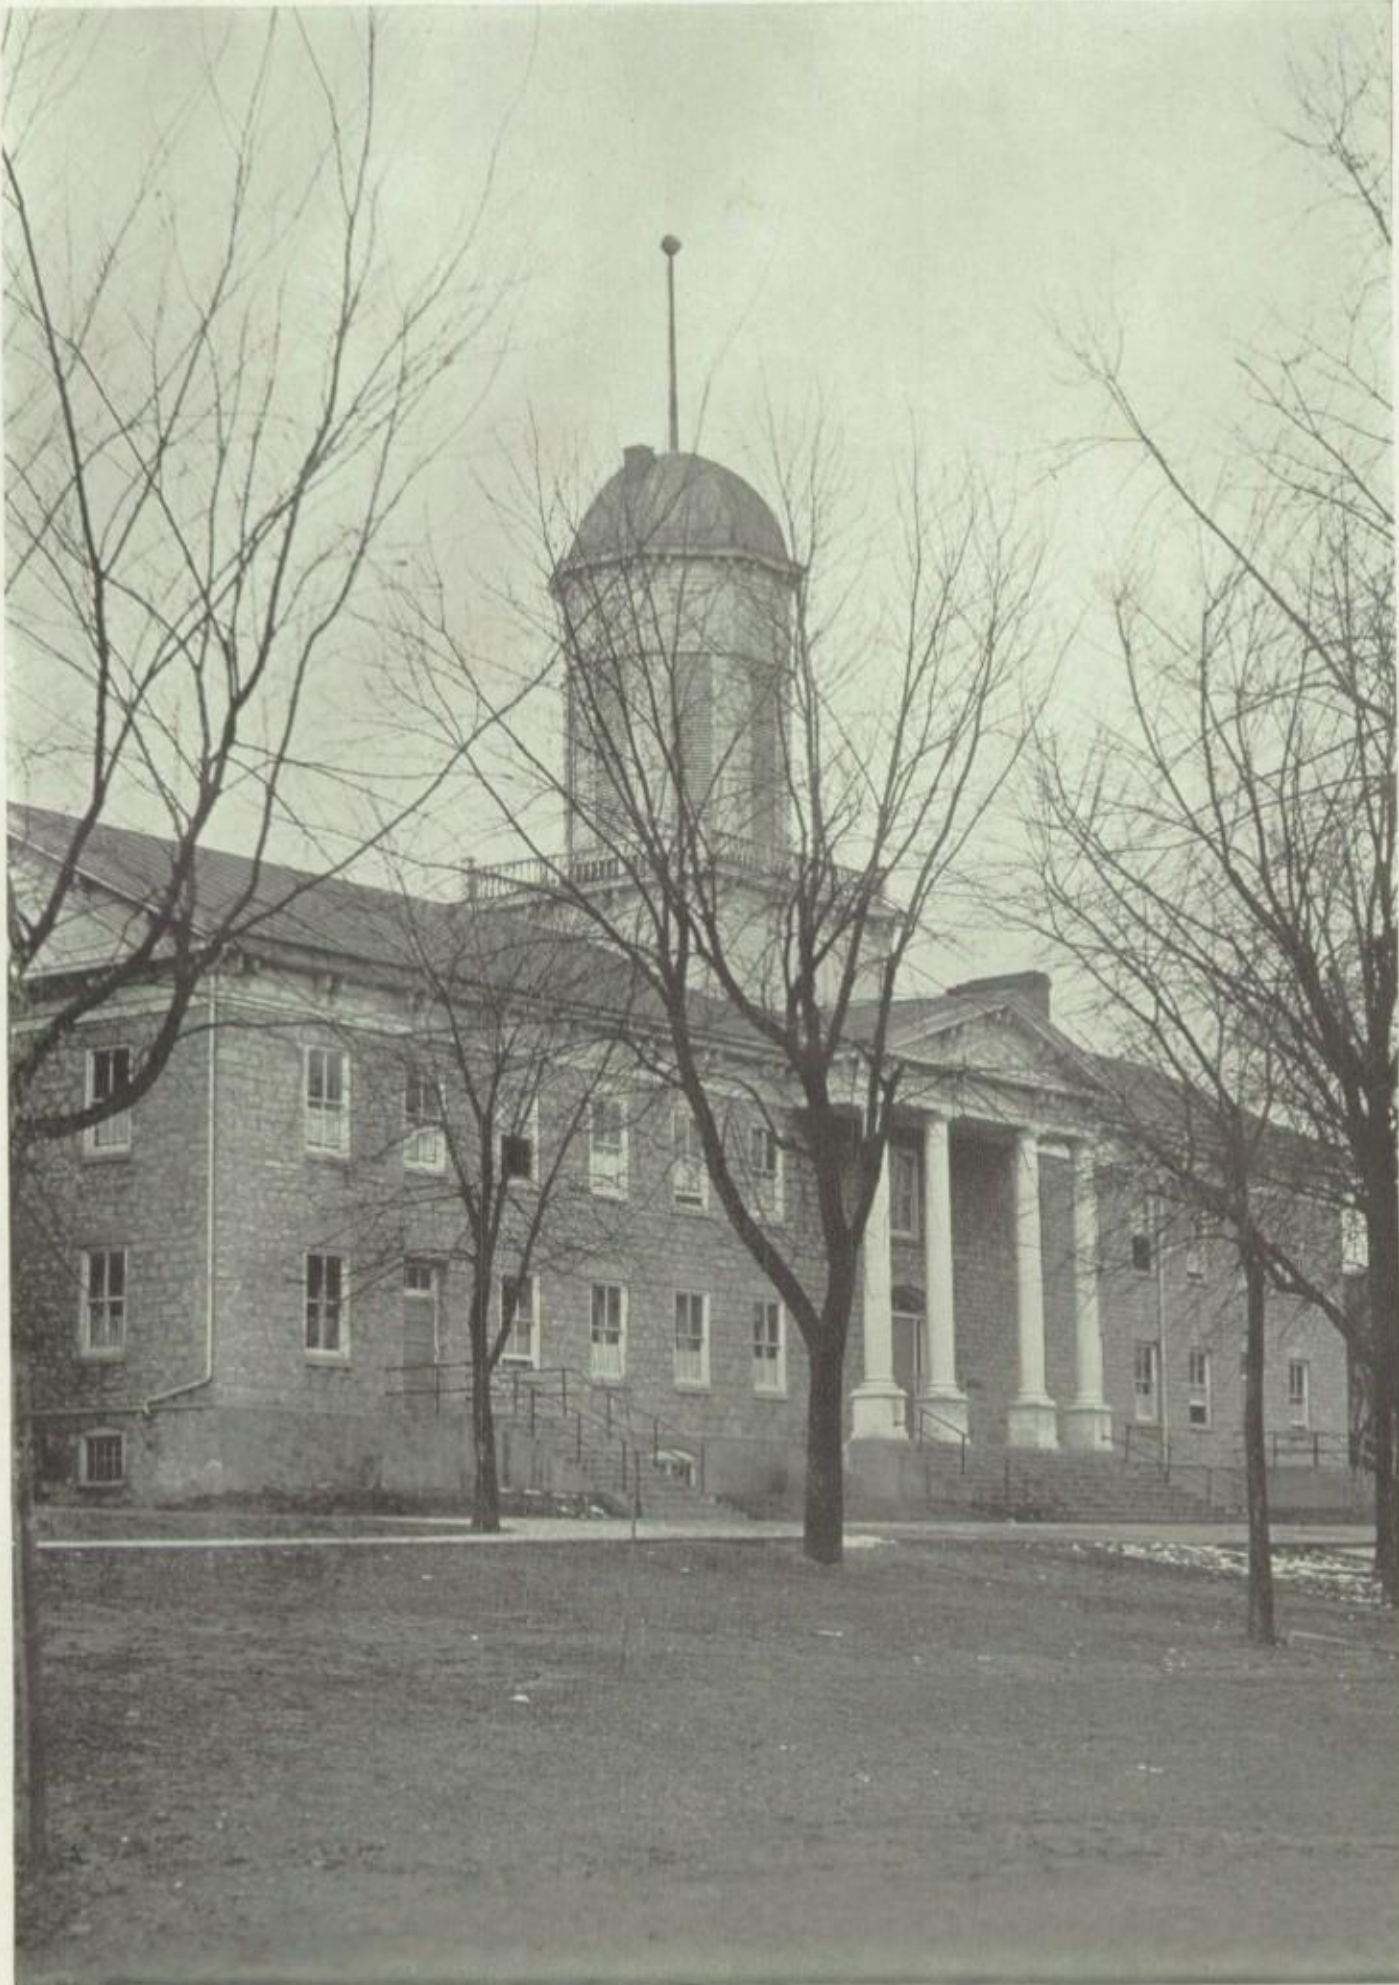

In Memoriam

Oscar D. Naber

January 15, 1870—March 13, 1931

Mayville sustained a real loss in the death of Oscar D. Naber. He was ever active in the interest of good schools. He was a member of the Board of Education from 1906 to 1915 and from 1921 to 1924 and of the Dodge County Normal School since 1926. The beautiful new high school building stands as a monument to his belief in education and the higher things of life.

If we have fairly presented some of the many hours spent at work and at play, if we have accurately recorded our achievements in the classroom and in the various activities of our school life, if we have wisely chosen pictures of ourselves and friends, if this book will someday call to mind the many pleasant associations of our high school days, we shall then have attained our purpose in publishing this Rocket.

Administration

Administration

MR. O. E. BUTH

Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Buth has been superintendent of the Mayville schools for nine years. He assisted in many ways in establishing the new high school building and has ever been devoted to the welfare of all pupils, the school in general and the community as a whole.

MR. JOHN A. THIEL

Director of the Board of Education

Mr. Thiel has served for four years as director of the Board of Education and has been untiring in his efforts to uphold the interests of our schools.

MR. KURT RUEDEBUSCH

Clerk of the Board of Education

Mr. Ruedebusch has served two terms as clerk of the Board of Education. He has always shown the keenest interest in the progress of education.

MR. EMIL MEINERS

Treasurer of the Board of Education

Mr. Meiners has been a member of the Board of Education for two years beside a half year of the unexpired term of his predecessor, Mr. William Ribbens. He is an ardent supporter of all that promotes the welfare of the schools.

Class History

In September, 1926, when the new high school building was ready for use, we, the Class of '31, were seventh graders, twenty-six in number. By the time we became Freshmen, our class had increased to fifty-one members. Under the guidance of our advisor, Miss Olson, we passed our first year of high school, and entered our Sophomore year with but forty-four members.

It was in our Sophomore year that the class began to assume importance in the Mayville High School activities. Four Sophomores were first string football men, while three were on the basket ball team, one of them being elected captain. The girls, too, brought athletic laurels to the class by winning the Girls' Inter-Class Basket Ball Championship. One Sophomore girl won second place in the League Declamatory Contest in 1929, and a Sophomore boy won first place in the League Oratorical Contest. The class was well represented in the operetta "Once in a Blue Moon" in both cast and choruses.

When we returned the next year as Juniors we found our class enlarged by the entrance of Lavina Heinecke, Evelyn Luedke, Erhard Luhn, and Estelle Miller from Theresa High School. Again the class was well represented on the football field, in basket ball, in the band and choruses. Two Juniors, were on the debate teams that won the State Championship. The climax of the Junior year was of course the Prom. The gym was strikingly decorated in a modernistic design, and the class felt amply repaid for the work they had done to make it a success. And then, all too soon our Senior year at Mayville High School was at hand. Class officers elected early in the year are: President, Spencer Johnson; Vice-President, George Deanovich; Secretary, Kaetchen Wegner; and Treasurer, Yovanca Dallich.

Again the class was well represented on both basketball and football teams, aiding much in gaining for the school the second Little Ten Football Championship, thus capturing another silver football trophy for the school. The basketball team also had a successful season, winning second place in the Little Ten League. The Musical Festival also found the Senior Class well represented in the chorus, orchestra and band.

In inter-class activities the Senior Class has not been idle. The Inter-Class Forensic Cup given to the class whose members have done the most work in the line of forensics was won by the Seniors. The class, up to the time of writing, is leading in the race for the Inter-Class Athletic Cup, with high hopes of winning it.

We have worked hard to make this "Rocket" one of the best ever published here, and have worked hard with our class play, "A Lucky Break."

Now, at last, with all our school work finished, and all our activities passed, we are ready for graduation and our last picnic as students of the Mayville High School.

Motto—Through trials to triumph.
Colors—Red and White.
Flower—Lily-of-the-Valley.
Advisor—Miss Olson.

Fifth Row: H. Gehrke, L. Beck, R. Bernard, R. Welsch, W. Schellpfeffer, H. Daniels, R. Pilsner.

The Juniors began an eventful year with an enrollment of thirty-eight. At the first meeting in the fall the following officers were elected: Andrew Magyar, President; Hazel Voss, Vice-President; Harold Schroeder, Secretary; and Wallace Pasbrig, Treasurer.

Although a small class, they made a name for themselves in all school activities. Seventeen out of the twenty-three boys in the class participated in football, five were on the basket-ball squad, three were in the oratorical contest, five are Boy Scouts, six in the Hi-Y, and seven in the Forestry Club. Two of the girls took an active part in debate, three in declamatory, and seven are Girl Scouts. Three of the class are members of the orchestra, nine of the band, fourteen of the German Club, and nineteen took part in the Festival.

The class gave two dancing parties this year. Of course, the biggest and best event of the year was the Junior Prom. The decorations, in red and white, were carried out in diamond design making a very neat and attractive appearance. Miss Moriarity was class advisor.

Sophomore Class

Bottom Row: H. Kraft, J. Palmer, D. Herzberg, M. Kalthow, E. Deanovich, V. Baernwald, L. Capelle, V. Zimmerman.
Second Row: L. Beitz, J. Starr, O. Wendt, J. Kraft, V. Malesevich, R. Bachhuber, G. Naber, M. Gitzinger

Fifth Row: F. Meyer, C. Wiese, W. Gehrke, A. Falk, B. Endlich, H. Cundy, V. Schellpfeffer, L. Kinsley.
Sixth Row: F. Baertschy, G. Dedolph, G. Rediske, W. DeWitt, L. Marose, F. Lohous, A. Kannas, V. Baehler, G. Gensmer.

The Sophomore Class officers are: Delor Herzberg, President; Max Kahlow, Vice-President; June Palmer, Secretary; Emil Deanovich, Treasurer.

This year the Sophomores have been represented in all the various phases of athletics, music and forensics.

Delor Herzberg and Lawrence Kinsley performed creditably in the debate squad; in oratory Delor Herzberg was one of the two students who represented the school at the League Oratorical Contest at Oconomowoc, and Lawrence Kinsley was one of the school's representatives in extemporaneous speaking.

The Sophomores thus received second place in the inter-class contest for the Forensic Cup. Next year the Class of '33 hopes to be active enough to capture the cup.

Freshman Class

Bottom Row: V. Ewerdt, L. Meyer, V. Steger, B. Lange, C. Buerger, W. Kraft, W. Neisius, L. Salzberger, F. Putsch.

Seventh Row: B. Vick, W. Labomascus, W. Jansa, H. Hilgendorf, O. Gensmer, N. Boeck.

In September, about sixty pupils registered as Freshmen, only a few of whom dropped out before the second semester closed.

The first class meeting was held a short time after school started, and the following officers were elected: President, Cleo Buerger; Vice-President, Billy Lange; Secretary, Vivian Steger; Treasurer, Werner Kraft.

The Freshman Class, this year, was active in forensics. Nine girls took part in the declamatory contest, three of whom were chosen for the final High School contest. One boy, Howard Pfalzgraf, entered the Oratorical Contest, and one girl, Cleo Buerger, won a place on the debate team.

Our class had a small part in football and basket-ball, also. Several boys were in the boxing bouts between basket-ball games and several girls took part in the Athletic dance.

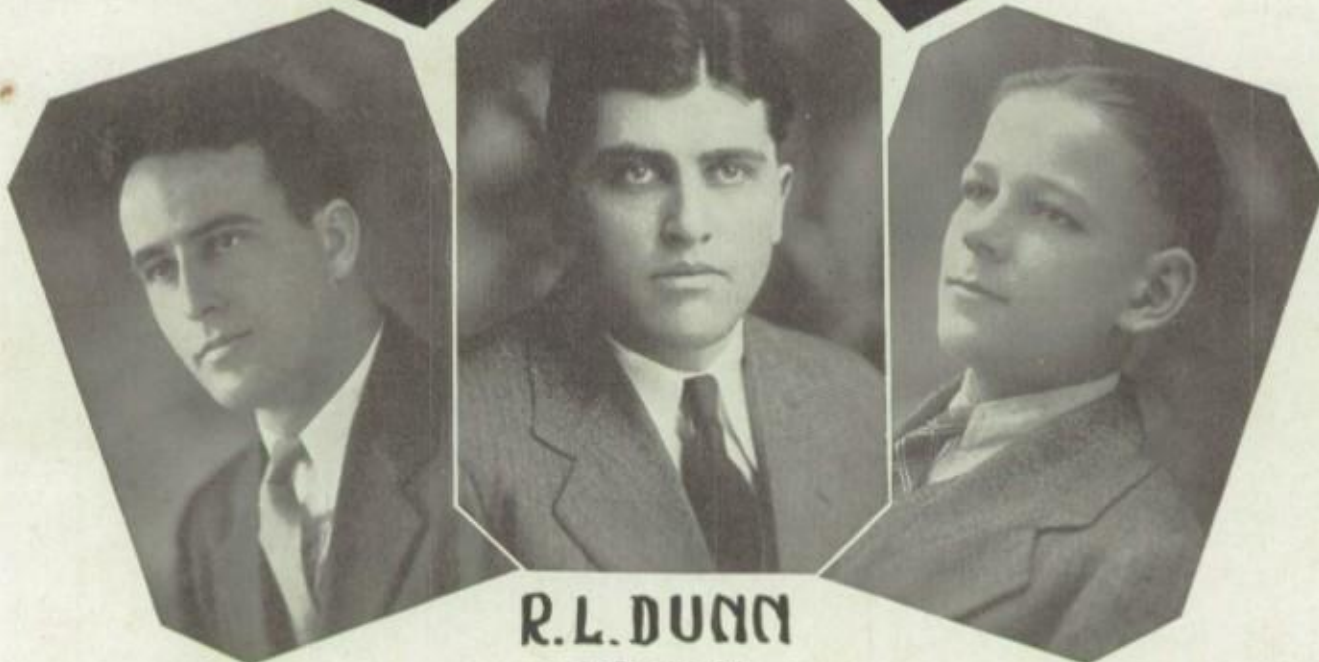

The Freshmen had one party this year, which was held in the gymnasium. Games and dancing furnished the entertainment.

The advisor of the class is Miss Baumgartner.

The Red and White this year had another brilliant season in football. The team went through a stiff schedule without a defeat to run their total of games won to fifteen straight. In doing so they captured the Little Ten Championship for the second year, being the first member of the Little Ten Conference to win this honor. In making this wonderful record the team established itself as one of the best teams in the state. Mr. Dunn again coached the team to victory and was ably assisted by Mr. Whitford. The outlook for next year's team is less promising perhaps as thirteen letter men have closed their football careers in the season just passed.

Conference Games

Oconomowoc—0 Mayville—26

The Mayville High School eleven opened its football season with a victory, the victim being Oconomowoc, a non-conference foe. Oconomowoc never threatened throughout the game, the battle being fought mostly in Oconomowoc's territory. The team showed, by its hard tackling and blocking, much promise as a championship contender.

Berlin—0 Mayville—6

After a hard fought battle the Red and White won its first conference game with Berlin. Mayville was in scoring territory several times but lacked the punch to put the ball over. In the last quarter the team scored its only touchdown of the afternoon by an end run by Daniels. Berlin never threatened Mayville's goal.

Columbus—0 Mayville—53

The Red and White scored its second conference victory at the expense of a weak Columbus team. Playing hard, clean football, the Mayville eleven marched up and down the field scoring at will. Many of the future Mayville High School players gave a good account of themselves. Columbus never threatened to score.

Ripon—0 Mayville—26

Playing against a husky, confident Ripon team who was considered the biggest obstacle in the Red and White's path to another championship, the Mayville eleven ran up a score of 26-0. A fumble by the Ripon safety early in the game gave the Red and White its first opportunity to score. Because of Mayville's hard, sure tackling, Ripon never came within scoring distance.

Beaver Dam—13 Mayville—39

Playing their only night game of the season, the Red and White defeated Beaver Dam for their fifth straight conference victory of the year. Beaver Dam was swept off its feet by the hard vicious drive launched by the fighting Mayville eleven. Two touchdowns were scored in the first five minutes of play. Beaver Dam, the only team that scored against the Mayville eleven, made its first touchdown by a long pass. Their second touchdown was scored by a line plunge in the last quarter.

Conference Games—Continued

Waupun—0 Mayville—53

The whole football squad saw action in its game with a weak Waupun eleven. It was the sixth conference win for the Mayville eleven, the team having little trouble in subduing their opponents.

West Bend—0 Mayville—8

The Red and White scored early in the game with West Bend and held the lead throughout the game. The Mayville eleven scored on a plunge by Malesevich after the ball had been put in scoring position by a long pass to Kahlow. In the second quarter Pilsner scored two points by blocking a West Bend punt and falling on it out of the end zone. After a series of passes in the last quarter West Bend placed the ball on the one foot line. Here the fighting Red and White showed its superiority by slowly pushing back for four downs the stubborn West Bend eleven.

Horicon—0 Mayville—2 (forfeit)

Our ancient rivals forfeited their game with the powerful Red and White eleven because of the fact that many of their players were injured.

Shawano—0 Mayville—46

The fighting Mayville eleven routed Shawano in a post season game. The Red and White played a great, hard, all around game of football. Twelve letter men closed their High School football career in a blaze of glory. Shawano never threatened the Red and White's goal.

With a total of fifteen games won in two years and no defeats, Mayville captured its second successive Little Ten Conference Championship. Only nineteen points were scored against them to their 399.

Football B-squad

Due to a large turn out for the football squad last year a B-squad was formed. It was composed largely of small, light players who were not of the varsity caliber. The squad played several games during the season, engaging Juneau twice and Theresa once. The team came out on the long end of the score in each encounter and showed much promise of football material for the coming years. The B-squad should give the smaller fellows a chance to gain experience before going into the tougher competition of the A-squad.

Football Lettermen

Co-captain Emil Malesevich—Full-back

Height 5 ft. 10 in. Weight 153 lbs.

Emil was the hardest blocking, tackling and plunging fullback in the conference. He earned four "M"s and was elected backfield captain in his last year.

Co-captain George Deanovich—End

Height 6 ft. Weight 165 lbs.

"Omar" won his letter in his last two years as an end on the championship football teams. Because of his inspiring work he was elected line captain.

Harland Daniels—Quarterback

Height 5 ft. 8 in. Weight 186 lbs.

Being the best punter, drop kicker, and quarterback in the conference made "Bubula" an asset to the team. His work on the gridiron will be long remembered by Mayville fans.

George Gensmer—Half back

Height 5 ft. 9 in. Weight 147 lbs.

"Yutch" was one of the hardest hitting backfield men in the conference. He will be back two more years and is expected to make a great backfield man.

Ray Pilsner—Tackle

Height 5 ft. 9 in. Weight 166 lbs.

Pilsner was one of the outstanding linemen for the last four years. A hard worker and a vicious blocker, his loss will be greatly felt by future teams.

Theodore Bachhuber—Tackle

Height 6 ft. Weight 159 lbs.

"Teddy" played one of the tackle positions with credit to the team. His size and spirit were one of the main factors in the line's strength.

Nick Dallich—End

Height 5 ft 10 in. Weight 159 lbs.

"Nickie" could always be depended on to play his hardest. As a pass receiver he was second to none in the conference.

Ray Welsh—Center

Height 6 ft. Weight 155 lbs.

Ray played the pivot position as well as any center in the conference. He should be of great value to next year's team.

Carroll Zweig—Guard

Height 5 ft. 8 in. Weight 150 lbs.

Zweig, a very light man in the line, made up for this handicap with speed and aggressiveness. His hard blocking made him a splendid man for leading interference.

Mike Dallich—Halfback

Height 5 ft. 9 in. Weight 152 lbs.

Mike was one of the outstanding backfield men in the conference. His presence in the backfield was a great asset to the team.

George Kosich—Guard

Height 5 ft. 9 in. Weight 148 lbs.

George came out for football and made the team because of his fight, pep, and never-give-up attitude which made him a strong man in the line.

John Loehrke—Fullback

Height 5 ft. 11 in Weight 145 lbs.

"Johnny" a first year man, filled the fullback position successfully when called upon to do so.

Hiram Cundy—Tackle

Height 5 ft. 8 in. Weight 133 lbs.

Hiram was very light as a tackle but played the position well. He has two more years of competition left.

Lester Birr—Halfback

Height 5 ft. 7 in. Weight 140 lbs.

"Spatz" was one of the surest tacklers on the squad. He could be placed anywhere in the backfield or at end and perform equally well.

Lawrence Kinsley—Quarterback

Height 5 ft. 4 in. Weight 120 lbs.

"Shorty" was a small man, but his speed made up for his size. He played his position well and should become a great open field runner.

Elmer Heublein—End

Height 6 ft. Weight 155 lbs.

Elmer was a rangy end who could be depended upon to do his best when sent into the game.

Eldor Quandt—Guard

Height 5 ft. 8 in. Weight 154 lbs.

Quandt was a fast, hard hitting guard who was of great value to the team.

Max Kahlow—End—Center
Height 6 ft. Weight 159 lbs.

Kahlow was a very able end and center because of his great aggressiveness. He still has two years of competition and should prove himself valuable.

Frederick Baertschy—Tackle
Height 6 ft. 9 in. Weight 163 lbs.

"Patz" was a reliable substitute tackle and was always in the thick of battle. He should be an outstanding candidate for the regular tackle position next year.

William De Witt—End
Height 5 ft. 9 in. Weight 145 lbs.

"Bill" was rather light for a line-man but he did his best when he was in the game.

Ivan Kinsley—Halfback
Height 5 ft. 6 in. Weight 135 lbs.

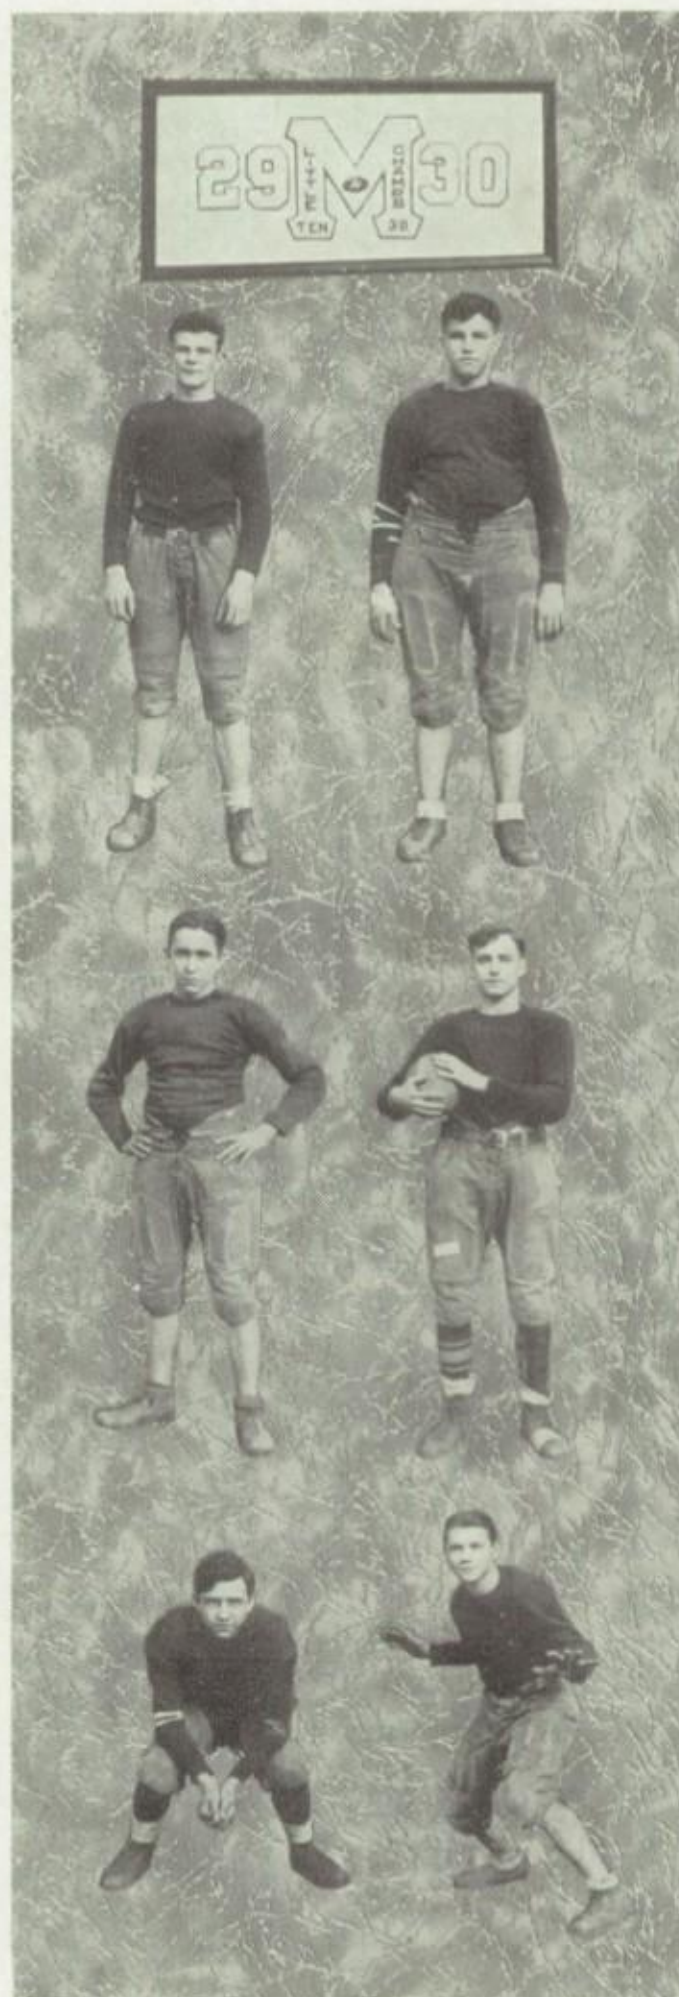

"Ike" is a light but fast man. This was his first year of football and he did his bit toward the winning of our championship.

Delor—Herzberg—Halfback
Height 5 ft. 7 in. Weight 132 lbs.

"Herzie," small but fast, proved himself a reliable substitute. He still has two more years of competition and should prove valuable.

Wilbur Schelpfeffer—Guard
Height 5 ft. 10 in. Weight 168 lbs.

"Griz's" weight and size helped a great deal. He was a battering ram of strength, and should be of inestimable value next year.

Inter-Scholastic Athletics

In an effort to stimulate more interest in athletics and inter-class competition, the school this year offered a cup to the class most active in all phases of sports sponsored by the school. The school feels the student will get better acquainted with athletics and take more interest in sports through this experience. Mr. Dunn, Athletic Director, and Mr. Christensen, Physical Education Director, have devised a point system by which the cup will be awarded each year.

Students winning letters in basket-ball and football get a certain number of points in accordance with the letter received. These points count toward the class totals. In the basket-ball tournament between the classes the winning team gained a large number of points for their class. Spring football, soft ball, hard ball, track, and horseshoe are the remaining class meets in which points can be gained. At the finish of the class games the points are totaled and the class on top receives the Athletic Cup for the year 1930-31.

The Seniors, who are now ahead in points, are favored to win although the Juniors are a close second in the race for the cup.

Football Banquet

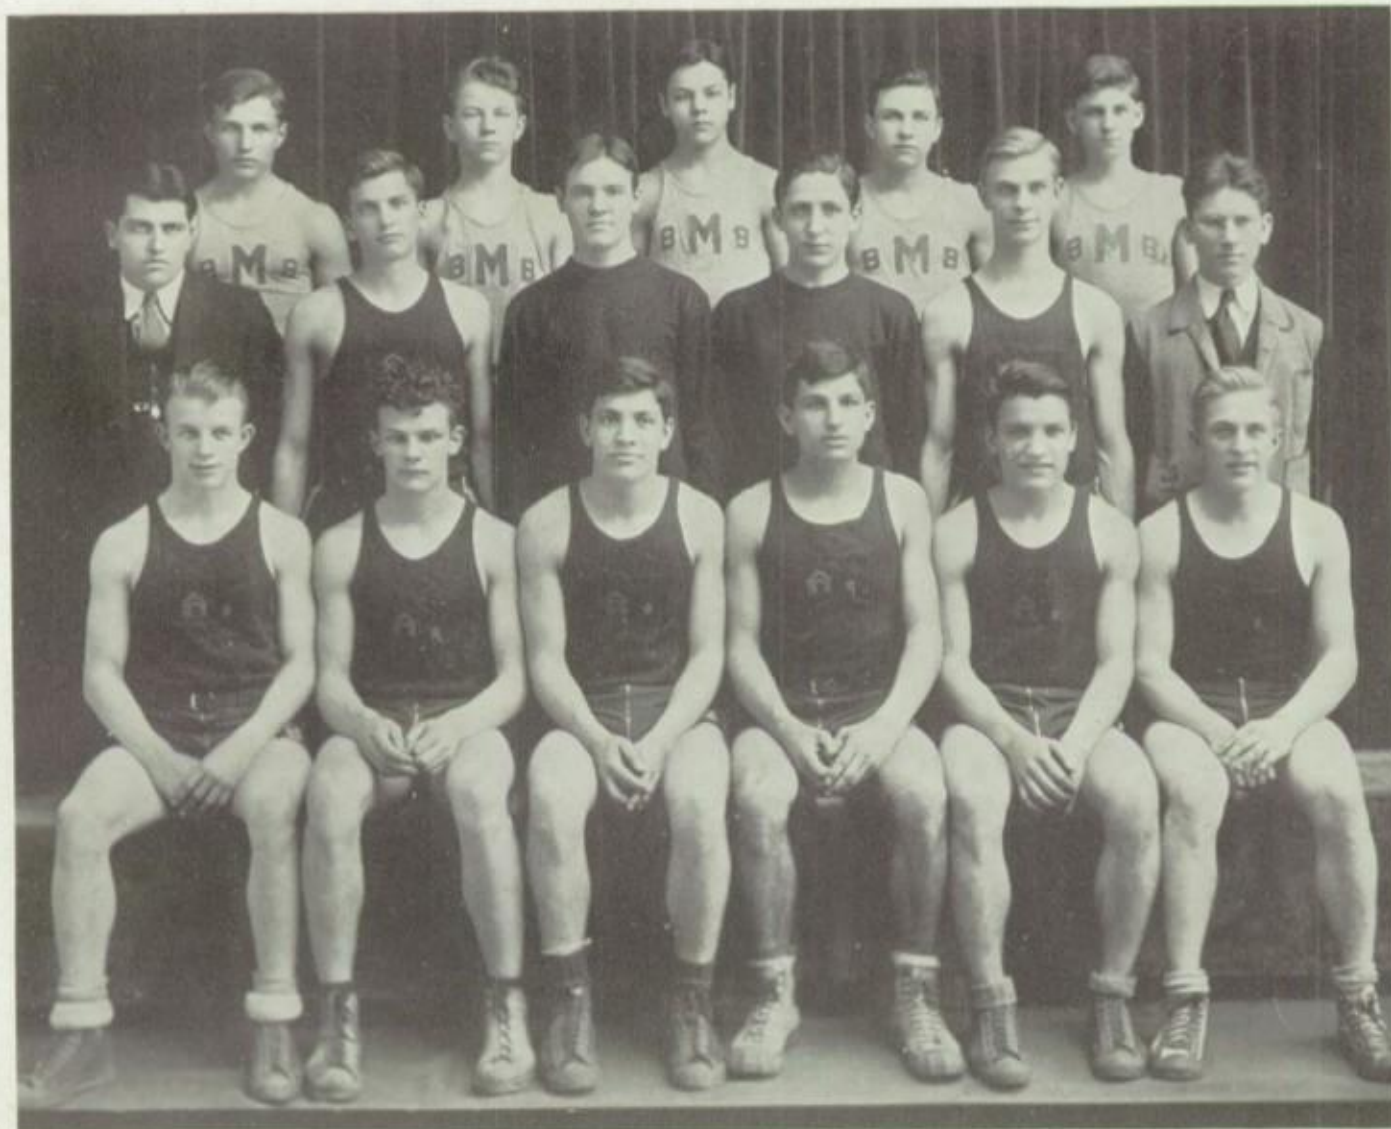

On December 8 a banquet was held in honor of Mayville's second championship team. Twenty-three letter men were awarded gold footballs and honor sweaters by the business men of Mayville.

Mr. Thiel again presented the footballs to the letter men. Mr. Bussewitz, President of the Little Ten and Superintendent of Horicon High School, presented a full size silver football to the school. Mr. Dunn accepted the trophy in behalf of the school. The main speakers of the evening were Irvin Gerber and Guy Sundt, both former University of Wisconsin football stars. Mr. Buth acted as toastmaster.

Mr. Dunn was given a wrist watch from the squad as a token of their sincere appreciation of the part he played in building up high school athletics and developing a fine spirit of sportsmanship. Mr. Whitford was given a Schaeffer Life Time fountain pen for his efforts with the squad this year.

The members of the squad appreciate the work of the mothers and high school girls who served the banquet and so materially assisted in making the whole affair a delightful and fitting close for the splendid football season of 1930.

Basket-ball

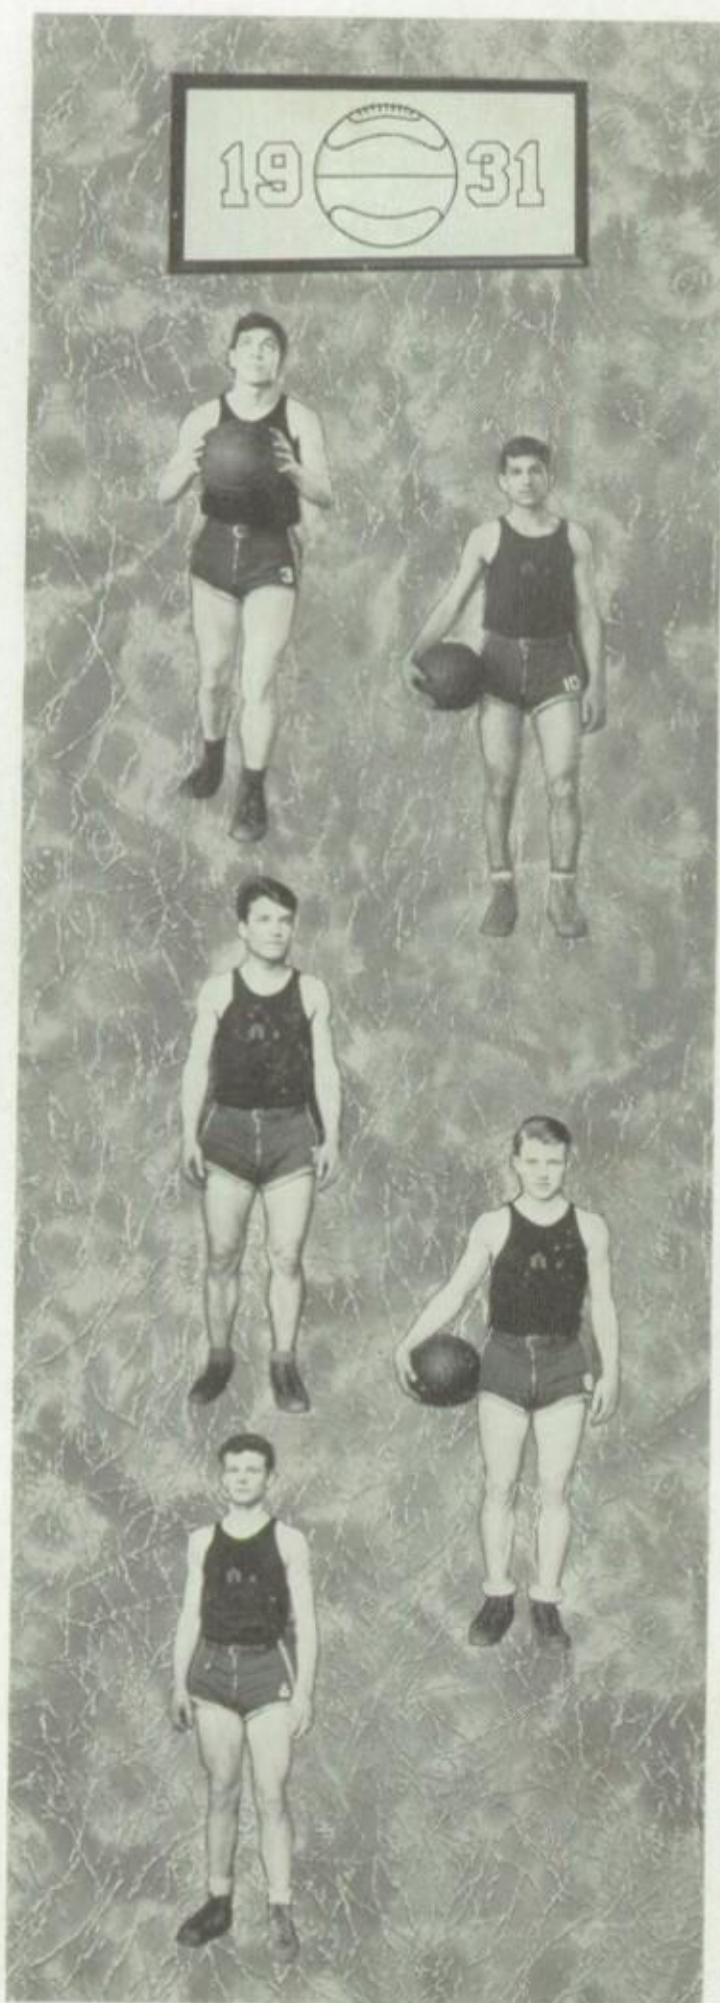

Bottom Row: M. Strook, M. Kahlow, N. Dallich, E. Malesevich, M. Dallich, C. Zwig.

Second Row: Mr. Dunn, Coach, T. Bachhuber, G. Deanovich, J. Loehrke, R. Welsch, G. Kos'ch, Manager.

Third Row: G. Gensmer, V. Schellpfeffer, E. Deanovich, D. Herzberg, W. Kraft.

The basket-ball team had the most successful season that a Mayville team has had in the last few years. After losing the first two conference games, the team came back strong and won the remaining seven games to take second place in the conference. They were invited to the Beaver Dam District Tournament at the close of the season. The team lost to Ripon in the first game of the Tournament and was eliminated from further play by losing to Oakfield the following day. Though the team lost out in the tournament several coaches thought Mayville had the best team at the tournament. Next year's team has a bright outlook as only three lettermen are graduating.

Basket-ball Lettermen

Co-captain Nick Dallich—Center

"Nickie" was one of the important factors in Mayville's taking second place in the Little Ten Conference this past season. By virtue of his great work he was elected Co-captain in his last year.

Co-Captain Emil Malesevich—Forward

Emil was the most aggressive man on the team, thus being a vital factor in the team's offense and defense. He was elected captain in his Sophomore and Co-captain in his Senior year.

Mike Dallich—Guard

Though Mike was handicapped by a fractured leg in the early part of the season, his dynamic playing and coolness in the thick of the battle acted as a spark plug upon the team.

Merlin Strook—Forward

Strook, a fast breaking forward, was a first year man. He did much to make the team the success it was and should be an important cog in the next year's team.

Max Kahlow—Guard

Max, though inexperienced in major competition, overcame this handicap with his ability. His accuracy in shooting from any angle on the floor served as a constant threat to the opponents.

Basket-ball Lettermen

Carroll Zweig—Forward

"Squeak" was a reliable substitute who did his bit when called on to do so. He was a member of the squad for three years, winning a minor letter in his last year.

George Deanovich—Center

"Omar" served capably as first string center until his period of competition ended in February. His ability as a rebound man, both on offense and defense, was specially valuable.

Raymond Welsch—Guard

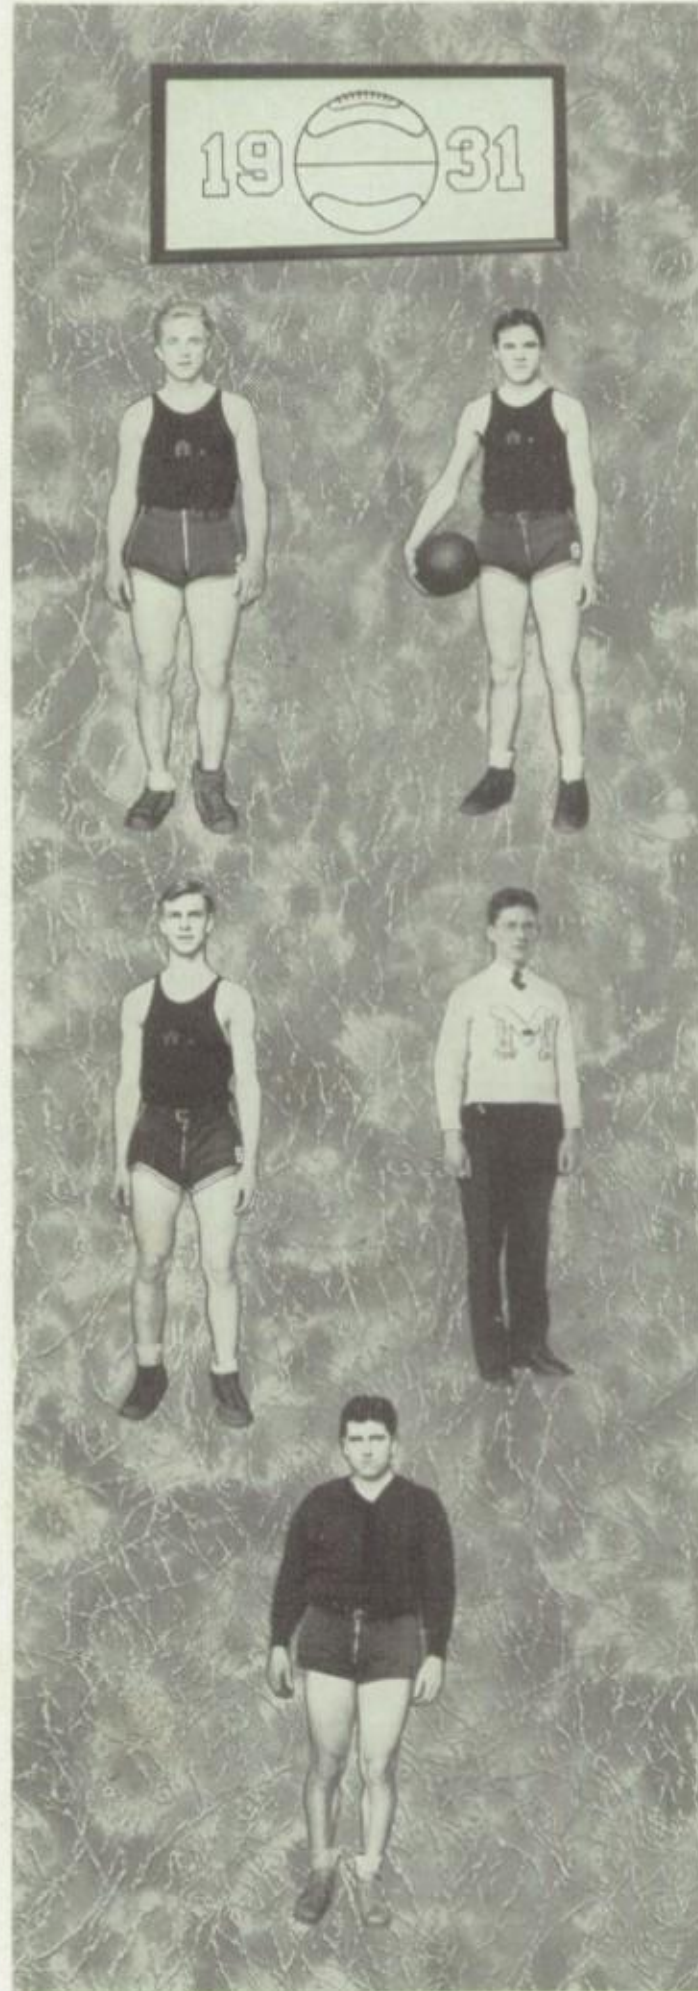

Ray was a reliable substitute who filled in very well in time of need. He has another year of competition ahead of him and should be a valuable member of next year's team.

George Kosich—Manager

"Kosta" has rendered valuable service to the team for the last three years. Part of the credit for the success of this year's team should go to him for his general work with the team.

Ray Dunn—Coach

Mr. Dunn has served as athletic director at the Mayville high school for the past five years. The teams that he has turned out have been known not only for their athletic achievements but also for their good sportsmanship.

Basket-ball Games

Slinger—31 Mayville—15

Mayville opened its basketball season against a strong Slinger team and came out on the short end of the score. This was not because of inability to play, but due to lack of practice. The squad had had only four days of practice previous to this game. This was the first of a series of practice games to be played by Mayville.

Wayland Academy—19 Mayville—15

Mayville lost its second game of the season of Wayland Academy, but as a whole the team showed up much better than in the game with Slinger. There was a decided improvement in the team's play, both offensively and defensively.

Horicon—16 Mayville—21

The Red and White defeated the Black and Orange, their old rivals, in a non-conference game at Horicon and did it in a very determined manner. Mayville was in the lead throughout the game, Horicon never threatening them very seriously. The team showed up well, but there was still much room for improvement.

Ripon—19 Mayville—8

The conference season was opened by a game with Ripon. Ripon and West Bend were classed as the main contenders for the Little Ten Championship this year. The game was close the first half, but the team, playing poor ball the second half and Ripon playing better ball, was far behind at the sound of the final whistle.

West Bend—20 Mayville—17

Mayville lost its second conference game to the Aluminum City team. After trailing 15-7 in the first half the team came back and tied the score at 15 all. West Bend was dazzled by Mayville's defense and passing attack during the third quarter but managed to sneak in two baskets and a free throw the last quarter which won them the game.

Waupun—9 Mayville—32

Mayville overwhelmingly defeated a weak Waupun team in its third conference game of the season. This game was the start of a seven game winning streak for the Cardinal Five. Waupun offered little opposition; every man in uniform had a chance to play. The sportsmanship exhibited by the Waupun fans was the worst ever encountered by the Mayville team.

Horicon—16 Mayville—22

Horicon came here determined to win this game after their loss to the Mayville team earlier in the season. The first half it looked as if Horicon would be revenged for their previous defeat. However the Mayville boys came back strong the second half and took the lead which it did not lose for the remainder of the game. About one thousand people witnessed this game.

Columbus—3 Mayville—25

Mayville trampled a weak Columbus team which went into the game as favorites but was no match for the fighting Red and White. Columbus made only one basket and one free throw and these came late in the fourth quarter. The game was featured by the excellent guarding of the aggregation as a whole.

Oconomowoc—13 Mayville—17

Mayville defeated Cooney for their second defeat of the season. Cooney lost the previous week to Ripon by a score of 17 to 18. The score at the half was 8-8, but Mayville went ahead at the start of the second half and never was seriously threatened during the remainder of the game. The sportmanship shown by the Cooney crowd was the best Mayville encountered in the conference games.

Beaver Dam—9 Mayville—29

Mayville defeated Beaver Dam for their fifth straight conference victory. The Beaver Dam boys fought hard but could not penetrate the Cardinal's defense. The Cardinals took the lead from the start and held it throughout the game, never being seriously threatened. The third quarter was fought at even terms, but the Cardinals could not be checked and scored fifteen points the fourth quarter.

Hartford—14 Mayville—21

The Red and White aggregation defeated Hartford after a hard fought game on their own floor. Mayville was in the lead during the whole game except the first few minutes when Hartford made a free throw. The Hartford boys were hard fighters and would not admit defeat until the final whistle blew.

Berlin—11 Mayville—22

Mayville defeated Berlin for their seventh straight victory and last conference game of the season. Mayville lead throughout the game and was never seriously threatened. Five members of the squad played their last Little Ten Conference game.

Tournament Games

Ripon—26 Mayville—24

Mayville met Ripon, Little Ten Basketball Champions, in their first tournament game at Beaver Dam. At the end of the first quarter, Mayville was ahead 12-7, but Ripon forged ahead and lead from then on. Mayville tied the score in the last three minutes at 24 all. Fallon of Ripon made a one hand shot from the side of the floor with a few seconds left to play, breaking the deadlock and winning the game for Ripon.

Oakfield—14 Mayville—11

Mayville met Oakfield in its second game at the tournament to decide which team would go on in the consolation round. Mayville showed flashes of their true form, but on the whole they were dead on their feet. The end of the game found the score tied, causing them to play an overtime period of three minutes. Oakfield won out in those three minutes, thus eliminating Mayville from further tournament play.

Top Row: O. Nance, Y. Dallich, K. Wegner, M. Neumann, J. Kraft, V. Holz, B. Johnson.

Not only did the boys participate in athletics but the girls also played an important part in the school's athletic achievements.

An added feature of several of the basket-ball games this year was an athletic dance given by fourteen girls of the Physical Education classes. They wore costumes of red and white.

The Girls' Inter-Class Basket-ball Tournament took place in the latter part of March. The first game between the Freshmen and Sophomores resulted in a victory for the Freshmen. The Juniors were the victors in the Junior—Senior game. Both games were close and exciting and well worth attending.

The following day the Seniors defeated the Freshmen and the Juniors defeated the Sophomores.

The last two games resulted in victories for both Junior and Senior teams, thus making the Juniors champions for this year.

GYMNASIUM ENTRANCE

Activities

Festival Chorus and Orchestra

The Tri-City Music Festival held on April 21 was the best one that has ever been given here. As in the two previous festivals, the bands, orchestras and choruses of Horicon, Columbus, and Mayville were united.

Mayville's chorus was chosen from the High School boys' and girls' music classes. The orchestra was composed of members from the band and violin classes. The chorus consisted of thirty girls and twenty boys and the orchestra of twenty pieces.

Earnest work and effort at regular rehearsals under the excellent direction of Miss Nickles brought remarkable results.

Senior Band

Bottom Row: E. Uzelatz, E. Bartelt, L. Maaske, C. Engel, H. Bender, M. Goldberg.
Second Row: Mr. Christensen, M. Lindemann.
Third Row: M. Mann, J. Dopp, L. Wheeler, C. Naber, C. Ribbens, R. Ost, V. Zimmerman, H. Millen.
Fourth Row: A. Magyer, B. Johnson, L. Ribbens, B. Schwartz, H. Bachmann, D. Herzberg, B. Malesevich, P. Wagner, V. Buerger.
Fifth Row: M. Thiel, D. Kuehn, M. Strook, H. Koepsell, L. Gleisner, V. Buerger, F. Ruedebusch, R. Vick, E. Quandt, V. Steger.
Sixth Row: S. Johnson, E. Heublein, W. Forester, A. Mildbrandt, W. Pasbrig, A. Kannas, R. Bernard, E. Gentz, W. Labamascus, J. Loehrke, M. Loehrke.

The band was organized in September by Mr. Christensen and veterans from last year's band responded.

The band played for all the football games. A Pep Band of fourteen pieces was selected to play for basket-ball games and the entire band played for the last game.

The Beginnerrrs' Band was organized in September with twenty-seven members.

A concert was given February tenth, in conjunction with the orchestra, to a very appreciative audience.

High School Band

Bottom Row: Mr. Christensen, A. Birr, A. Birr, R. Bartch, R. Gensmer, V. Dejanovich, C. Paustian V. Deanovich.

Second Row: D. Lange, V. Macksam, E. Hintz, D. Machmueller, O. Buerger, M. Fisher, S. Stipanovich.

Fourth Row: J. Ruedebusch, C. Wiese, M. Rutalj, G. Naber, E. Bonack, R. Bachhuber, B. Lange, H. Hilgendorf, G. Bennetts.

After the concert the band began preparations for the Tri-City Music Festival. Six members of the Beginners' Band were promoted to the Senior Band for the Festival. Mayville and Columbus bands combined to make a group of one-hundred pieces which rendered their selections in masterly style under the direction of Mr. Christensen.

The band is now preparing for two more concerts, one open air concert given by the regular band on Wednesday evening June third, and the other by the combined beginners' and regular bands consisting of eighty pieces to be given at the Community Park on Picnic Day, Thursday, June eleventh.

This will officially close a very successful school band year.

The Double Quintet

Bottom Row: E. Miller, M. Bachhuber, K. Wegner, Miss Nickles, M. L. Husting, M. McCloud.

The Double Quintet was composed of ten girls from the Junior—Senior music class under the direction of Miss Nickles.

These girls sang at several Woman's Club meetings, the County Federation of Women's Clubs and for various assembly programs. They met Thursday afternoons for practice from four to five o'clock.

Violin Ensemble

Bottom Row: S. Grubich, H. Lehner, K. Wegner, Miss Nickles, O. Hurlbert, B. Lange.

Miss Nickles, the instructor, worked with this group to develop material for a classical orchestra.

The first semester was devoted to work on simple ensemble music. The second semester was turned over mainly to Festival music, and this organization contributed to the first and second violin sections in the Festival.

Another violin group was organized by Miss Nickles for the pupils in the primary stages of violin technique.

The school played a large part in making this class possible by purchasing twelve "fiddlettes", or practice violins.

This class put on a demonstration for the Mothers' Club at their last program of the year.

The members of this organization are—Betty McCloud, Erna Benzel, Delores Quandt, Lorraine Wetzels, Lorraine Wheeler, Kaetchen Wegner, Lora Marie Meyer, Doris Kuehn, Yovanca Dallich, Hazel Enderle, Julia Benzel, Virginia Buth, Arlene Forst, Mildred Guse, Elizabeth Bradtke, Marian Bachhuber.

Orchestra

Top Row: M. Strook, S. Johnson, R. Bernard, J. Loehrke, W. Pasbrig, M. Loehrke, A. Mildbrandt, E. Gentz, M. Lindemann.

The orchestra this year was the largest jazz orchestra ever organized, consisting of sixteen numbers, with only two veterans remaining from last year.

Several interesting new features were added including a trio composed of Merlin Strook, Milan Lindemann, and Spencer Johnson, and violin and piccolo players.

They played for all the school dances and at the Football and Schoolmasters' banquets. They took a prominent part in a concert given February tenth in which John Loehrke presented an interesting trombone solo. They will also play for the Alumni Banquet, June 10.

The Orchestra has been one of the most popular organizations of the school and has delighted the school with their music on all occasions when they have entertained.

Credit must be given to Mr. Christensen for the time and energy he has spent to develop this orchestra.

The German Club

Second Row: W. Forester, R. Welsch, H. Rohlinger, A. Bujanovic, Miss Baumgartner, D. Kuehn, F. Steinbach, G. Deanovich, W. Pasbrig, G. Meyer.

The German Club with approximately thirty members was organized at the beginning of the year, with its purpose set at extending the use of the German language. This purpose was accomplished at its meetings, one of which was held every month. Most of these meetings included German programs followed by an hour or two of games and dancing. The programs consisted of appropriate German songs and readings and parts of German plays presented by members of the German Club, and in some cases, by pupils of other German classes. Christmas and Valentine's Day were two of the special holidays observed.

Miss Baumgartner was the Club's Faculty advisor. A great part of the success of the club was due to her guidance.

The officers of the club were as follows: President, Marion Bachhuber; Vice-President, George Deanovich; Secretary-Treasurer, Andrew Magyar.

Fourth Row: C. Naber, C. Gensmer, V. Buerger, G. Kahlow, A. Forst, M. Bolduan, E. Greget, A. Luehring.
Fifth Row: C. Husting, D. Rutalj, M. Bachhuber, C. Buerger, L. Gleisner, O. Nance, B. Johnson, M. Ulrich, M. Mann.

Girl Scouting has advanced a pace in the past year.

The activities that remain uppermost in the minds of the girls are the Mother-Daughter banquet held last spring, at which Mrs. Ottmer of West Bend spoke, and the Court of Awards, held March 21, 1931, at which Mrs. Leo Merkel, the Director of the Madison Girl Scouts, spoke.

The Lily-of-the-Valley Troop, a peppy band of thirty-four girls, has set its heart on a camping trip. Accordingly, they have earned money by sponsoring card parties and food sales.

The North Star Troop has industriously worked on the Scout program, making marked advances. Work has been interspersed with Christmas and Valentine parties, hikes, and a camping trip to the cabin.

TROOPS 1 AND 2

Bottom Row: L. Hirsig, M. Bachhuber, G. Bachhuber, H. Voss, V. Buerger, V. Zimmerman, M. McCloud.
 Second Row: Miss Sullivan, Miss Busse, H. Oechsner, J. Stueber, L. Wheeler, Miss Grenzow, Mrs. Dunn.
 Third Row: L. Bartsch, I. Griepentrog, R. Wieseke, L. Guse, G. Naber, R. Gehrke, H. Kraft.
 Fourth Row: R. Hoefflin, Y. Dallich, G. Jacquot, G. Zweig, A. Bujanovic, I. Waas, R. Bachhuber.

Ten of the White Pines spent a glorious week-end at Shawano last spring. Of course, the Girl Scouts will remember the Hallowe'en and Valentine parties. The high-lights of their hikes are sunbaths, good eats, and snakes.

The winning patrol of the Lone Eagles' contest spent an enjoyable (in spite of the sunburn) week-end at Green Lake. In September campfire meetings were held in the Eagle's Nest. Where? The outstanding party of the year was the pajama party at Buerger's. Last but not least, the Lone Eagles possess the honor of having in their flock the first First-Class Scout in Mayville, LaVerne Bartsch.

The Girl Scouts of Mayville have had many pleasant associations in their work and play with each other and will carry with them happy memories.

The Scouts deeply regret that Miss Sullivan will not be with them next year. It was she who initiated the Girl Scout movement in Mayville and who was their guiding factor during her four years here.

The purpose of the Boy Scout movement in Mayville is to set up high ideals of character and to furnish wholesome activities to occupy the boys' spare time.

At the beginning of the year there were thirty-six Scouts in two troops. Later in the year the two troops were consolidated into one, Troop Seventeen, to afford closer contact between the boys and to simplify operation and handling of troops.

The Scouts took several hikes to the Neda Ledge, where they found much enjoyment in exploring caves. They also spent a day at Hustisford Lake.

The boys used the gym every Saturday morning to play basket-ball. In March they organized three teams which participated in the Badger Council Basket-ball Tournament at Fond du Lac and won the championship in two divisions.

The success of the Boy Scout movement this year was due in great part to the work and cooperation of Mr. Whitford.

Homecoming

"The biggest and best ever!" was the exclamation of many who attended the 1930 Homecoming on October the tenth.

The show windows decorated with red and white by the business men early in the week instilled a genuine homecoming spirit in the students and residents of the city.

The Hobo Parade on Thursday evening was carefully planned and proved to be a great success. The parade, made up of hoboes from kindergartners to Seniors, romped through the streets in the gayest of spirits. At the Malt House the immense bonfire, which rose high above the trees and houses, brought a fitting climax to the hilarious evening.

Spurred on by the school spirit demonstrated the night before, the Cardinal team was an easy victor over the weaker Columbus team on Friday afternoon.

In the evening the Cardinal Five furnished lively music for the Carnival Dance, where a crowd of students and alumni enjoyed a night of fun and frolic.

We look back to the Homecoming celebration as one of the high lights of the school year.

Junior Prom

The night of all nights! The Junior Prom!

This great social event of the year was held in the gymnasium on Saturday evening, April eleventh from nine until two.

The Senior class colors, red and white, were the key note for the beautiful decorations in diamond design. Red and white streamers were draped from all parts of the gym. A red spot-light cast a beautiful glow on the large silver diamond forming the background of the stage.

Peppy music was furnished by the White Kuhns' seven piece orchestra. At 10:30 o'clock, the Prom Chairman, Andrew Magyar, with the Prom queen, Mary McCloud, led the Grand March. They were followed by Spencer Johnson, the Senior Class President, and his partner, Maybelle Husting.

Punch was served throughout the evening.

The Prom was enjoyed by the several hundred people who attended.

Debating

George Kosich

Mary McCloud

Lawrence Kinsley

The question debated this year was one of the most interesting questions ever debated by Wisconsin High Schools. The question was, "Resolved that chain stores are detrimental to the best interests of the American People."

Mayville started this season of debating with a squad of which only one member had had any previous experience. The squad opened the season with a genuine interest in the work.

The Affirmative Team consisted of Mary McCloud, the first speaker; Lawrence Kinsley, the second speaker, and George Kosich the concluding speaker. Yovonca Dallich acted as alternate.

Marion Bachhuber was the first speaker of the Negative Team; Delor Herzberg, the second speaker, and Cleo Buerger, the third speaker. Hazel Voss was the alternate.

In the first round Mayville drew for its opponents, two of the strongest teams in the Little Ten Conference.

The first debate took place at Hartford, where the Mayville Negative Team met the Hartford Affirmative Team. The Hartford Team was composed of veteran debaters, while none of the Mayville people had had any previous experience. The result of this debate was that Hartford succeeded in defeating Mayville in a score of 100 per cent to 96 per cent.

For its first home debate, Mayville entertained the West Bend Negative Team. Here again, Mayville's opponents were experienced debaters. Mayville again took defeat bravely with a score of 100 to 98.

In the second round, Mayville met its rival, Horicon, on the home platform. The Mayville Negative Team had little difficulty in defeating its ancient rival the percentage being 100 to 96 in our favor.

Cleo Buerger

The final debate of the season took place at Berlin where the Affirmative Team encountered the Berlin Negative Team. This debate was won by Berlin with a rating of 100 to 95.

Mr. Marquardt, the coach, who has had four years experience as a debater while at Lawrence, was able to give the best training possible to the people who tried for the squad. Considering that they had no experience except George Kosich, the season cannot be regarded as a failure for a great deal of experience has been gained by debating. Due to this fact, they will be able to put forth better effort next year.

Due to graduation, Marion Bachhuber and George Kosich will not be with the team next year. George is one of the best debaters Mayville has ever produced and he will be missed by the squad. Marion will also be missed for she has aided the team greatly by her speaking ability.

This year a cup was awarded to the class who took the most prominent part in forensics. A system was devised whereby individuals gained points for his class toward winning the Forensic Cup. The Seniors won the highest number of points by a large margin with the Sophomores second, Juniors third and Freshmen, fourth.

Declamatory and Oratory

As usual Mayville again took an active part in the declamatory and oratorical contests.

On March 9, the preliminary declamatory contest was held. This year more girls participated than in any previous year. The thirty-two girls who took part were from the four upper grades. The judges, Miss Olson, Miss Zilisch, Miss Brackin, Miss Baumgartner and Mr. Buth, chose eight people to represent the school in the final high school contest, to which the public was invited. This contest was held on March 18 in the gymnasium. The judges were Miss Miller, Mr. Bussewitz, and Miss Franseen from Horicon. They awarded places to Marion Bachhuber with "Half-Way" and Kaetchen Wegner with "Buddy and Waffles". Lorraine Wheeler was the alternate.

This year the League Contest was held at Mayville. On March 27, representatives from West Bend, Hartford, Oconomowoc, and Mayville met at the gymnasium. Miss Gladys Borchers, of the Public Speaking Department of the University of Wisconsin, was the judge.

Places were awarded to West Bend and Hartford. Marion Bachhuber received third place.

In order to stimulate interest in public speaking, contests were held between classes in declamatory. The inter-class declamatory contest was held on March 18, in which two representatives from each class were entered. The judges were Mr. Buth, Miss Zilisch, Miss Busse and Miss Baumgartner.

Verna Quandt was awarded first place, Verda Macheel, second and Ruby Hoefflin, third.

The League Extemporaneous Reading Contest was held at Mayville on the afternoon of March 27. Lorraine Wheeler and Virginia Buerger competed with representatives from West Bend, Hartford, and Oconomowoc. Miss Gladys Borchers judged this contest also.

The High School Oratorical Contest was held on March 19. Eight high school boys took part. The two who were chosen to go to Oconomowoc on March 26, were Spencer Johnson with an original oration entitled "Youth Speaks", and Delor Herzberg with "Is America Safe?" Spencer Johnson succeeded in getting third place.

On March 26, the League Oratorical and Extemporaneous Speaking Contests were held at Oconomowoc. The representatives of Mayville High School were George Kosich and Lawrence Kinsley. George Kosich was awarded third place.

On April 4, the Constitutional Oratorical Contest was held at Fond du Lac. Mayville's representative, Spencer Johnson, was awarded second place.

The National Forensic League conducted an all state contest at Ripon on Saturday, April 25. Representatives from seven schools met at Ripon on the set date.

Spencer Johnson represented Mayville High School in the original oratorical contest. Marion Bachhuber took part in the dramatic declamatory contest and George Kosich in extemporaneous speaking. All three Mayville people survived the elimination contest, thereby being enabled to compete in the final contest. Spencer Johnson was given first place. He will represent Wisconsin in a National Contest to which representatives from all parts of the country will go.

Marion Bachhuber and George Kosich each succeeded in capturing fourth place in the state contest.

Senior Class Play

"A Lucky Break," a farce-comedy in three acts, was presented by the Senior class May 29, before a large and appreciative audience.

The play centered about the return of a millionaire to his home town after twenty years absence.

The success of the play was due almost entirely to the patient coaching of Miss Olson.

The cast was as follows:

Martha Mullett, Proprietress of Hotel Mullett.....	Anna Bujanovic
Nora Mullett, Her daughter.....	Kaetchen Wegner
Elmine Ludine Smith, A servant.....	Flora Steinbach

Assembly Programs

A number of very entertaining and educational assembly programs were presented at various times throughout the school year.

The first one was held on Election Day. Several members of the Civics classes gave speeches on the party platforms. Then a student straw vote was conducted.

The Eighth Grade presented a Thanksgiving play which they had written themselves. The Seventh Grade wrote and gave a play to teach fire prevention to the student body. A very entertaining program was put on by the Senior English classes under the direction of Miss Zilisch, to commemorate Lincoln's Birthday. Miss Baumgartner's Freshman English class gave a play and drill in honor of Washington's Birthday. The girls' festival chorus sang two numbers.

Early in the year Glen Morris, the electrical wizard, demonstrated interesting aspects of electricity. The McElroy Entertainers, saxophone artists, delighted the assembly with a program of varied selections.

Miss Jessie Rae Taylor gave an entertaining reading program. She interpreted various characters in costume. Her work was very helpful to the girls in their declamatory work.

The Wisconsin Power and Light Company's life-saving team from Madison exhibited their method of resuscitation.

The band and orchestra advertised their program of February tenth by playing several selections included on the program. The Male Quartet also performed.

Senior Honors

George Kosich

Marian Bachhuber

Emil Malesevich

The Junior Association of Commerce Award is annually bestowed upon the Senior boy for high scholastic standing and for prominence in school activities other than athletics during his years in high school. George Kosich receives the honor of having his name engraved upon that cup in 1931.

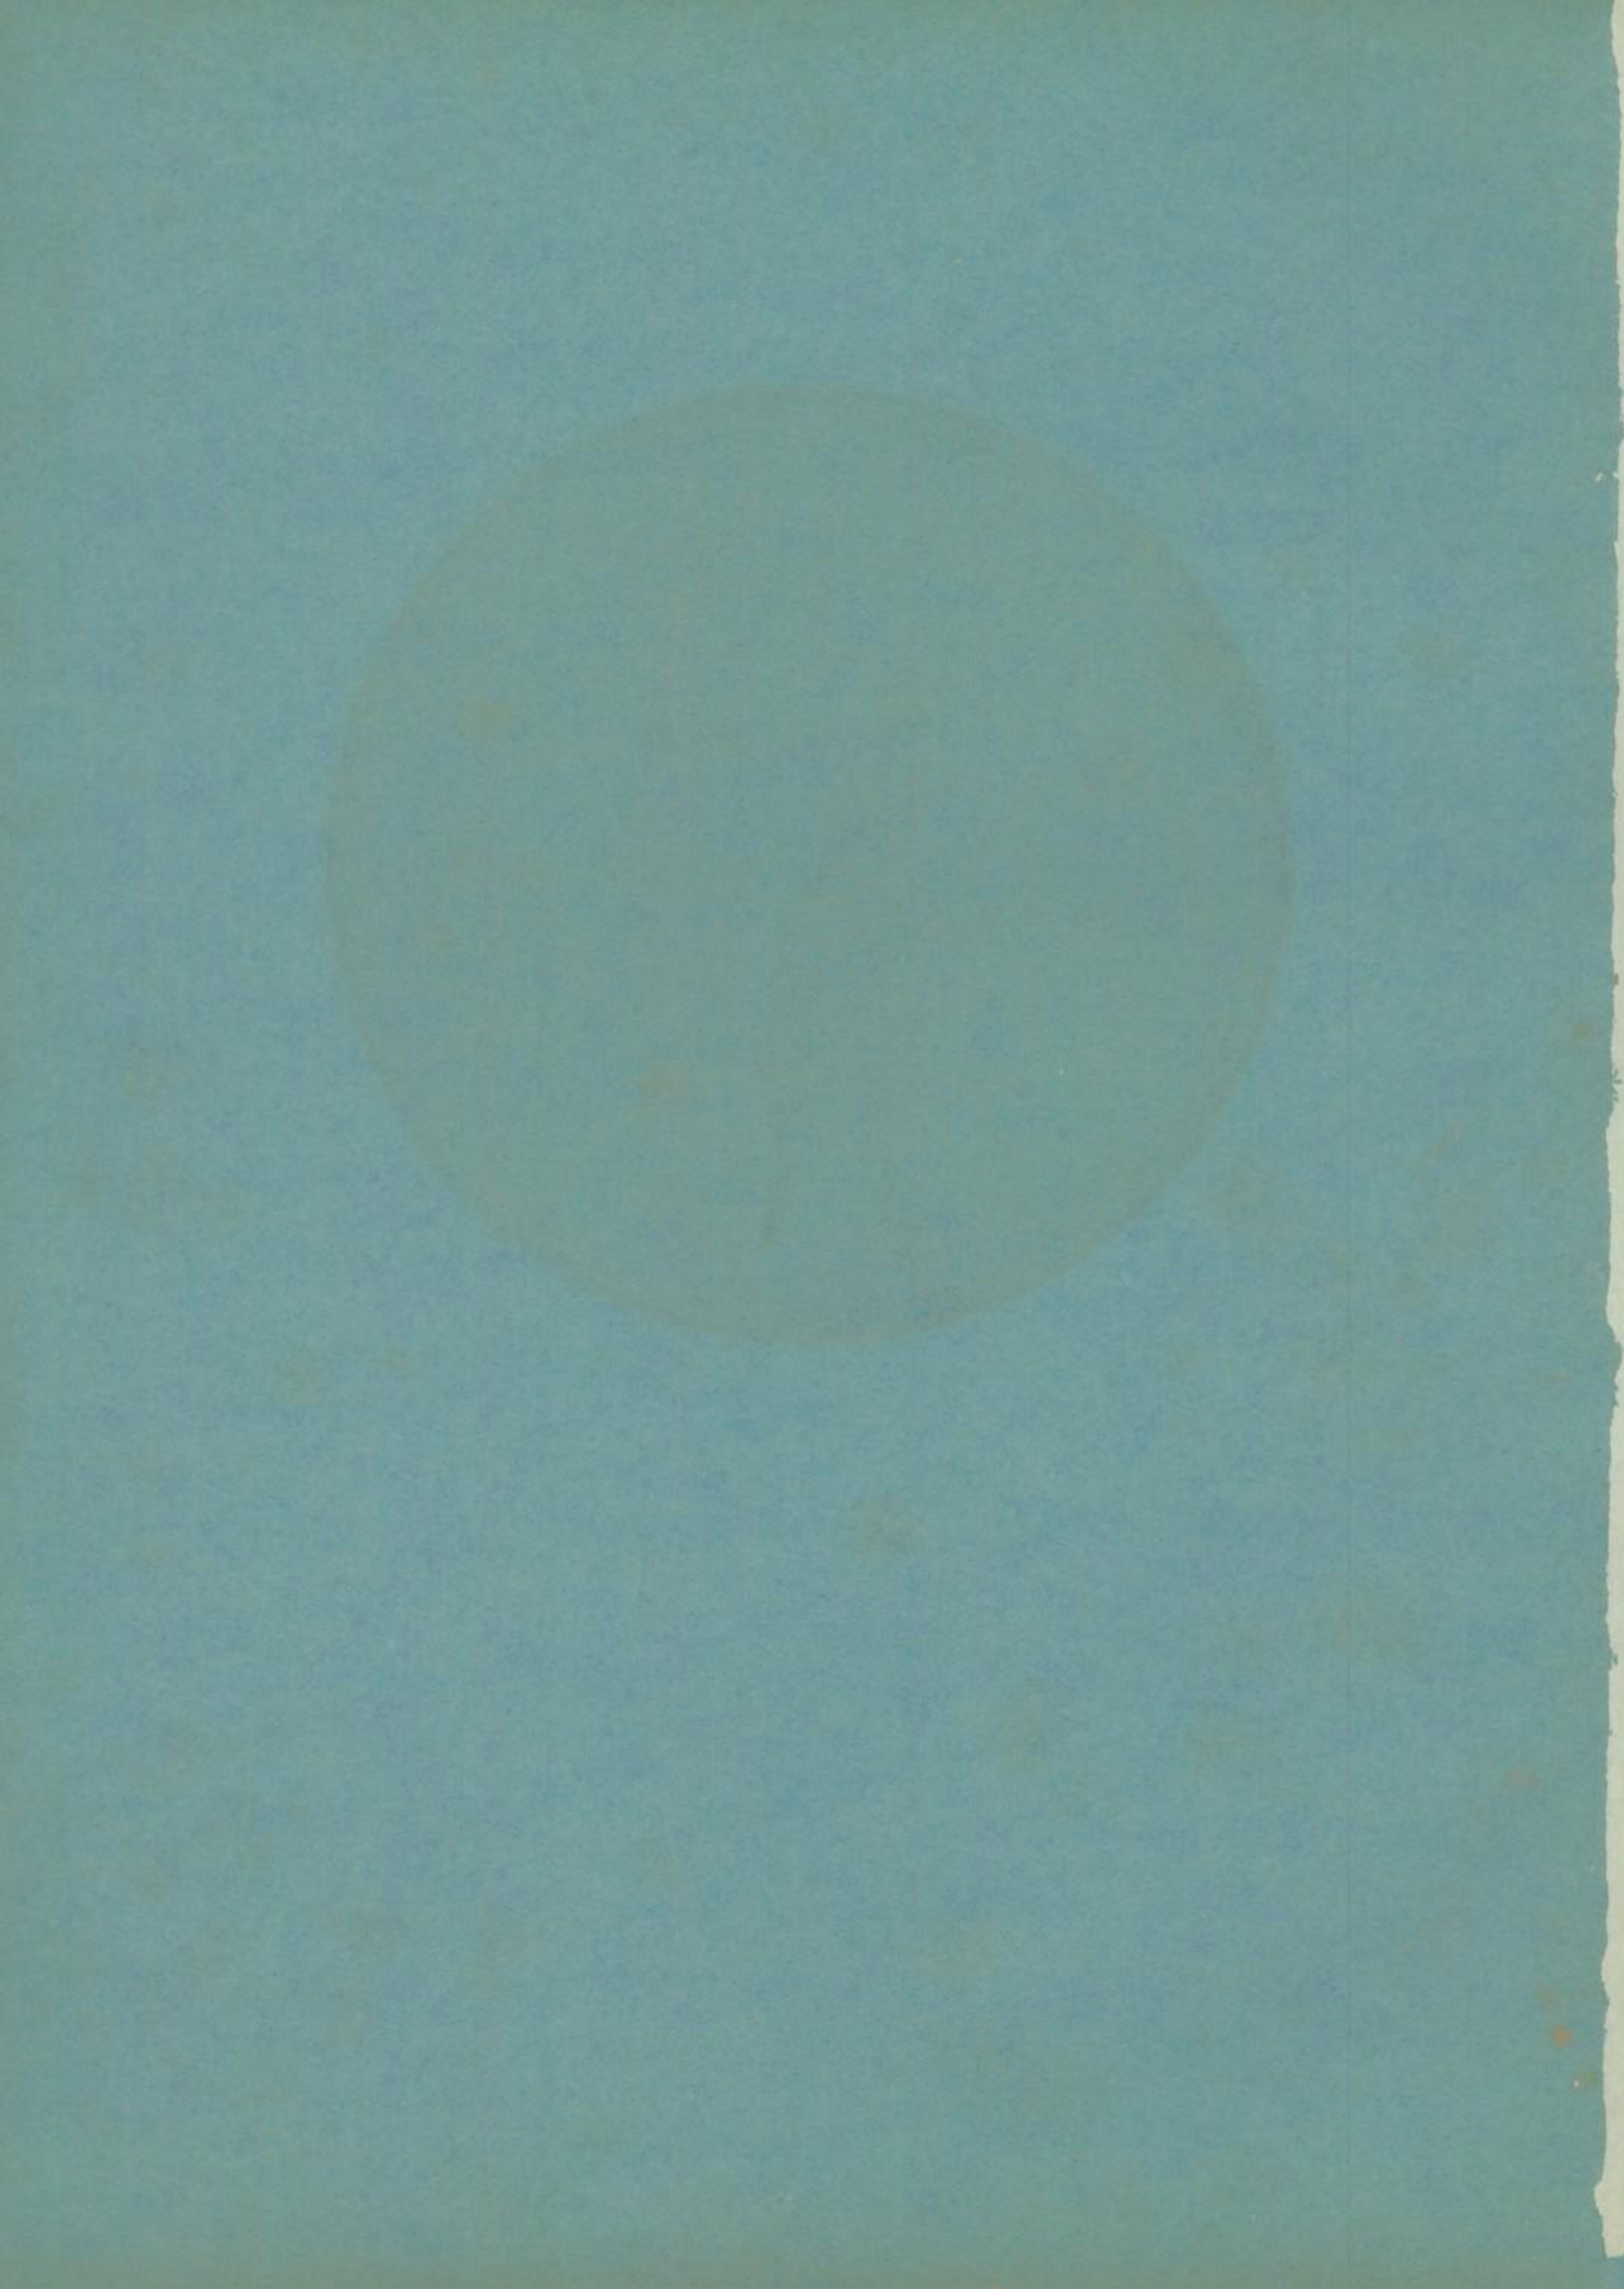

The Mayville Woman's Club each year presents ten dollars in gold to a Senior girl for leadership in general activities during her high school career as well as for scholarship. Marian Bachhuber received that award this year.

The American Legion Medal is another annual award to the Senior boy ranking highest in high school athletics with good scholastic standings. Emil Malesevich met both requirements and was awarded the medal.

Features

Humor

In the line for roll call in girls' gym. class, Mr. Christensen reading names: "Bachhuber, Bachhuber, Benning, Buerger, Bujanovich, Buhalog"

Adeline Riley: (pushing in between Marion and Eme) I'm going to be a Bachhuber too."

Miss Grenzow: "I let my hair grow so it would cover my dirty ears."

Elvie Pieper: "Why don't you let it grow over your neck?"

Gary Meyer: (In typing class) "Carbon paper was invented so that you can make two errors at once."

A voice in a car—I feel a draft.

Eme: "That's from my cold feet."

Irene Griepentrog: (In English) "A short story is composed of a struggle and its income."

Miss Moriarty: "See that man over there on the corner with the hat on?"

Another teacher: "I see the man but I don't see the corner with the hat on."

Spud: "La Salle must have been a dentist."

Eme: "Why?"

Spud: "He did some work at the mouth of the Mississippi."

Marion B: Lookit, you're bald, Izzy.

Izzy: "I can't see the top of my head."

Spud: "Are there any deposits of iron ore around the magnetic pole?"

Nick: "There have to be some to hold up the pole."

Budahn: There were two people in the back seat of the car and three in the rear.

Mr. Dunn: Were you at the last dance, George?

George K.: No, what happened?

Mr. Dunn: Omar danced into a corner and couldn't get out.

Mr. Whitford in Chemistry Class: Look at all the great men—take Joan of Arc for instance.

Miss Moriarity: Then she took off her cat and hoat.

Mr. Marquart: I can't think tonight.

Cleo. B.: My mind's a blank, too.

Geneva Zwieg: Is Glenn Frank married or not? I read that he was married and then I read that he got a bachelor's degree.

Miss Zilisch: There are certain ways of making people go to sleep by just looking at them.

Passy: When you talk five or six minutes I go to sleep.

Mr. Marquart: Some one was so anxious to get into this room that he broke the door.

Rosemary B.: That door looks as though it had been broken by some one on the way out.

Earl Gentz: Jefferson was born on April 13th in September.

Mr. Whitford: Green is pleasing to the eye.

Omar: That's why the girls all call me green.

Found on examination papers:

Marion Thiel: When an artery is cut the blood comes out in skirts.

George McCloud: Q. Who founded Rhode Island? A. Will Rogers.

Science: A comet is a near neighbor with a fur tail.

Can You Imagine~

A judge telling Virginia Buerger that she needed more "crust?"

Mr. Buth ever going up the steps one at a time?

George Kosich without tape on his glasses?

Heublein catching two passes in succession?

Miss Moriarity without a snappy comeback?

Nick Dallich with sideburns?

Kaetchen Wegner flunking?

"Eddie" Wagner missing a (historical) date?

"Pilly" not falling for "The New Girl?"

"Omar" without his collegiate (?) air and costume?

Merlin Strook buying ice-cream anywhere except Bauer's?

American History students not studying in other classes, especially English?

"Bubula" not famous in the Little Ten?

The Sarcastic Seven without their bridge parties?

Alice Doherty on time?

"Spud" Johnson taking anything seriously?

"Fat" Waltzer riding in an Austin?

Irene Raasch coming to school five days in succession?

Ray Welsch not visiting the wide open spaces?

"Fat" Meyer being stuck-up?

Mary Louise Husting not talking in the Typing Room?

Helen Rohlinger and Lorene Marquart being ousted from class because of their constant talking?

Vera Nehls without a letter or a note?

Virginia Holtz without a mysterious "boy-friend?"

Carroll Zweig as a professor of History?

"Yutch" Gensmer resisting the temptation to skip school?

Doris Kuehn without freckles?

Lavina Heinecke or Estelle Miller condemning Theresa?

Hiram Cundy becoming enthusiastic about anything?

A football crowd not sympathizing with "Shorty" Kinsley on his size?

Miss Zilisch not embarrassing some love-sick pupil?

A school party at which all boys present danced?

A football or basketball team composed of "A" students? Ask Mr. Dunn if it is possible.

Christmas Wishes

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1931

We, the Senior Class of 1931, of Mayville High School, residing in Dodge County, state of Wisconsin, being mentally sound and physically fit, do hereby solemnly make and publish this, our last will and testament, in manner and form as follows:

First, to the Faculty we leave our thanks for everything they have to make possible our graduation.

Second, to the Juniors we bequeath all the tricks of trade we have gained through our four years experience, to be passed on to future generations.

Third, to the Sophomores we will our ambitions, our joys, our hopes and our loves to be cherished and put away in lavender and moth balls.

Fourth, to the Freshmen we present all of the disillusionments that come with being upper class men, thus sparing them the heartaches of finding them out for themselves.

To the individual members of the Faculty, the Senior Class wills the following:

To Miss Baumgartner we leave a model German class in which all translations are strictly original, in which all daily assignments are prepared, and a German Club, whose members will volunteer to be on programs.

To Miss Brackin we bequeath a volume of one hundred prepared speeches—"How To Use the Library Properly."

We give to Miss Busse a geometrically designed piano on which she can sit and vocalize arias from "My Man" and "Shiek of Araby," and into which she can quickly disappear should Mr. Buth intrude on her harmony.

To Mr. Buth, Elmer Heublein wills his ability to take four steps at a time while going up the stairs. We would like to point out here that this will be of special use to Mr. Buth when he is on the first floor and hears the soft, sweet strains of a whistled tune issuing from the third floor corridor.

We will to Mr. Christensen a band whose members fill out their practice report cards truthfully.

To Mr. Dunn we leave a team whose members will jealously guard their trophies and emblems—with their very lives—from the grasps of enterprising young women.

We bequeath to Miss Grenzow an adjustable pattern which will automatically alter all mistakes.

We give to Mary Hollenstein an Austin insuring rapid transportation when checking up on suspicious absences and tardinesses.

To Mr. Marquart we will a student body who will delightfully and understandingly absorb his fund of philosophy and who will never misquote him.

We give to Miss Moriarity a dictaphone and a rear view mirror so that she can both see and hear what goes on in the typing room while she is conducting another class.

We bequeath to Miss Nickles a boys' chorus that will listen attentively to her instructions and then very dutifully fulfill her wishes.

Last Will and Testament—Continued

To Miss Olson we bequeath the Annual Staff composed of indefatigable workers, and whose members have only original ideas. To fill her fount of happiness to overflowing we also give to her a History Class which uses all spare time in pursuing the study of history.

We present to Miss Sullivan an aquarium whose fish have everlasting life, some salamanders who lose their skins oftener than usual, and several frogs that will not croak during her class periods.

To Mr. Whitford we give a special reception room in which to receive his host of after-school admirers.

To Miss Zilisch we will a class of poetically inclined pupils, who will produce poems at the rate of at least five a day.

By special permission of the copyright owners, "Eme" Bachhuber wills her punching bag to the up and coming young pugilist, Vernon Baehler.

Marion Bachhuber wills her dramatic ability to Irene Griepentrog, in hopes that she may become Greta Garbo II.

Dorothy Bening and Olive Marohl bequeath their good fortune in escaping from "these prison walls" ahead of time, to Betty Johnson, giving her enough time to reach her home in time for dinner.

Milton Boeder wills his method of gum chewing (Patent No. 1,445) to June Palmer.

Virginia Buerger wills her soothing, velvety singing and speaking voice to "Sammy" Kromer.

Mike Dallich has finally come to the conclusion that his understanding of women is of no more use to him, so he gives it, quite willingly, to Wallace Pasbrig.

Nick Dallich wills his "heart ships" to "Babe" Deanovich.

Yovonca Dallich wills her conscientiousness and prepared lessons to Teddy Bachhuber, making it possible for him to spend eight nights a week at recreation other than "book larnin."

Alice Doherty bequeaths her southern accent to "Grizz" Schellpfeffer to give him added charm.

Earl Gentz wills the much worn copy of his date and address book to Milan Lindeman, whether he has a duplicate copy or not.

Valeska Hacker wills her love of and admiration for Pene Aronin, to Pene Aronin. We know Pene can use it!

Lavina Heinecke and Estelle Miller bequeath to Ciolina Radke and "Sis" Bernard their success as a dancing team.

After much persuasion Virginia Holz has relinquished her hold on her magnetic disposition and promises to turn it over to "Gerry" Meyer. And now we'll have to watch "Gerry."

Gertrude Jacquot wills her innocence and ingenuousness to Bernice Wendler.

Spencer Johnson wills his singing ability and relaxed jaw to "Ajax" Koepsell.

Ivan Kinsley gives his one and only curl to Aaron Millbrandt in hopes that it will be "the straw that broke the camel's back."

George Kosich wills his stentorian and commanding voice, plus his argumentative ability, to Victoria Ewerdt, hoping anxiously that she will appreciate being able to make a noise in the world.

Doris Kuehn bequeaths her prowess at setting hair to Alfred Kannas.

Last Will and Testament—Continued

We believe that charity begins at home.

To Gregory Langenfeld of town Theresa, Erhard Luhn, a fellow citizen, wills his speed at extemporaneous reading of anything, whether prose, poetry or otherwise, but especially Lowell's poetry.

In view of certain developments, Emil Maleservich finds it necessary to will his editorship to Willis Gehrke. (This can be taken several ways.)

Lorene Marquart wills and bequeaths her bashfulness to Bobby Vick. May he profit by her good example!

Vera Nehls bequeaths her many years experience at writing notes to Harvey Schellpfeffer. To this very deserving young man, Evelyn Luedtke wills her shorthand ability, making it less possible for the general public to decipher the aforementioned notes.

Eldor Quandt wills the controls of his brother's airplane to Max Kahlow making it possible for him to make journeys to Wayland over the week-ends in record breaking time.

Irene Raasch wills her fastidiousness to Lorraine Pieper.

Adeline Riley bequeaths her third place in the sixth row in front of the mirror to Mary McCloud.

Helen Rohlinger wills her timid and startled expression to Edgar Bernard, whom we have reason to believe, has never looked either timid or startled.

Norbert Schaefer bequeaths to Andrew Magyar his accordian—thus making it unnecessary to hire an orchestra for the Prom and all the dances next year.

To "Yutch" Gensmer, Flora Steinbach bequeaths her fairylike movements and dainty flittings from room to room.

Erna Stoehr—or it might be Elfrieda—wills her gift of gab, most humbly to Ray Pilsner.

Allen Steuber wills his active membership in the 4-H club to Byron Endlich.

Isabella Waas bequeaths one of the A's in her name—which is excess baggage—to Rosemary Bachhuber, raising the total letters in her name from 17 to 18.

Charles bequeaths to "Mink" Schroeder the industry with which he serves on refreshment committees. With this, as a special bargain, he also includes his favorite bottle opener. (Pop bottle—of course!)

Edward Wagner wills his optimistic outlook on marriage to Ray Welsch, to have and to hold until otherwise disillusioned.

With full consent of the owner, we present to John Widmer, resident of the aforementioned town of Theresa, Kaetchen Wegner's pug-nose.

"Luddy" Wheeler wills to Hazel Voss her faculty of agreeing with everybody about everything and anything at any place at any time.

Ruby Wieseke wills her fluent use of the English language and her extra-credit book reports to Forrest Budahn, already a master of pig Latin and French.

Carroll Zweig bequeaths his mechanical genius to Anna Buhlag to be used in manipulating the intricacies of a malted milk mixer.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hand and seal, at Mayville, Wisconsin, this 10th day of June, A. D. 1931.

(Signed) THE CLASS OF 1931.

Pandora

"What else could I do? He rushed up to me, pushed the case into my hands, told me to guard it with my life and not to open it, and then he beat it into the crowd. I don't know who he is nor what is in the box. Maybe it's a bomb!" His eyes opened wide as though startled by his own thought.

"Well," said I, endeavoring to appear serious, although the expression on his face was laughable. "There is nothing to worry about. What did the mysterious gent look like? Was he tall, short, fat, thin, dark, light? Flat feet, bow legs, a squint? Mustache, or any way or thing by which you could identify him?"

"He was short and dark, sideburns, a waxed mustache. He wore a dark overcoat with an attached cape and a soft, black, felt hat. He spoke with an accent. Sounded like Italian."

"Sideburns, overcoat with a cape, waxed mustache. Hm, hm. Oh, I know! He's a professional man."

"Professional man?"

"A professional man!"

"You mean a racketeer. I knew it! I was born under an unlucky star. I'm done for. I might as well make my will. What luck, I — — —."

"Wait a minute, old man," interrupted I. "I don't mean a racketeer. I mean an actor or a person on the stage. Don't you get it? Sideburns, waxed mustache, caped coat. Maybe an artist or a musician."

"Let's hope you're right," he sighed, when he suddenly thought of another thing. "But the case."

"Why, yes," said I, "the case!"

"Yes, the case!"

"Well, what about the case?"

"What about it? What'll I do with it?"

"Do with it? Oh, yes, do with it? Why don't you open it?"

"I promised I wouldn't. There might be a bomb in it, too."

"Bah, on the bomb," said I. "The only way I can see out of it, is for you to hang on to it until it is called for."

I had forgotten about the preceding incident when, about a week later, my friend again rushed into my office.

"I saw him! I saw him!" he cried. "He just went by, but didn't stop! Maybe he is a racketeer. Maybe I will get killed. I bet there is a bomb in — — —."

"What in thunder are you yelling about? cried I, interrupting him before he ruptured a vocal chord.

"What am I talking about? I'm talking about the fellow that gave me that case. You know the short, dark fellow with sideburns, a waxed — — —."

Pandora—Continued

I again had to interrupt. "Yes, yes, old man. I remember. Now be a good fellow and whistle."

Whistle?"

"Whistle!"

"Why should I whistle? I won't whistle. I can't whistle. My life is threatened and you ask me to whistle. Are you — — —."

I was forced to interrupt him for the third time. "All right, old chap, you don't have to whistle. I was merely trying to calm you down. I once read that whistling did that. But, now, do you know to whom the case belongs?"

"Do I know to whom the case belongs? What's that? Do I know to whom the case belongs? Oh, what a question! Do I know to whom the case belongs? Do you think I would keep it up if I knew to whom it — —."

"My dear, dear friend," interrupted I for the fourth time. "I was merely trying to unravel this mystery by inquiring into the circumstances surrounding the matter. That is the way Philo Vance does it."

"Oh, hang Philo Vance. He isn't saving my life. Oh, that darn unlucky star of mine," he wailed in desperation.

"Where is the case? I asked.

"Where is it? Where is it? Oh, yes, where is it? Oh, yes, it is at home in the attic. I put it into the attic so if it blew up, it would only blow off the roof. What do you want with it?"

"What do I want with it? Why I'm going to bring it here and open it."

"Open it? Open it? But you can't. I promised not to, and it might contain a bomb. We had better leave it where it is."

"Nothing doing," said I as firmly as the circumstances allowed. "I didn't promise not to open it and as for a bomb—bah."

I herded my friend into my car and we brought the case to my office.

My friend was as nervous as a new papa with twins and with the doctor in hopes of making it a foursome.

"Quite an ordinary case; no markings; and it is comparatively light. Let's open it." I suggested.

"All right," consented my friend, "but you are taking our lives into your hands."

"Fie on such talk. We'll open it, find the owner's name and address and return the case to him. I'll tell you what we'll do. We'll open it, find the owner's name and address and return the case to him. I'll tell you what we'll do. We'll open the snaps, turn our backs to the case, throw the cover back and dash for the other room, and to Hades with the bomb."

My friend consented to the plan. We turned our backs to the case, grabbed the cover, and as our hearts began to beat faster and our breath came in gulps, we slammed back the cover and made a dash for the next room. Unfortunately my friend fell over a gaboon and I fell over him. In our confusion we forgot about the explosion. When it failed to come, my friend appeared rather sheepish; but also gave a sigh of relief.

"Well, what were you waiting for?"

"I—was waiting—for the—explosion," said he, "but there wasn't any."

"Bravo, my bucko, you are right. There wasn't any," I cried sarcastically. "Why, you poor boob. I told you there wouldn't be any."

We hoisted ourselves from the floor and ankled over to the case to be confronted by another surprise—the case was empty.

"Well, I'll be— — —," started I.

"Holy Jumping Jupiter," interrupted my friend.

"And this is what threatened your life? An empty case. Of all the sorry specimens of humanity — — —."

"Aw, have a heart," he pleaded, "how could I know it was empty—?" and he suddenly made a dive for the region between the shoulder blades, scratching furiously. I was about to suggest a bath when my hand was forced to respond to a furious itching in the hairy spot behind my left ear. In the meantime my friend shifted his point of attack to his head and I headed for the shoulder region.

"What the dickens is the matter?" asked my friend, between scratches.

"Darned if I know," answered I, between more scratches.

Suddenly the door was flung open and in rushed a short, dark man with sideburns, a waxed mustache, a black overcoat, and all the rest necessary to identify.

Where eesa it? Where eesa it?" he cried. "Da case. Where eesa it?"

Before either of us could answer him, our speech being severely hampered by our rooting motions, the mysterious stranger spied the open case

"Oo! oo!" he cried. "Oo, Santo, you have open eet! Oo my Pinta, my Rosa, my Maria, my alla, dey alla go! I tella you notta open de case. Oo! oo!" and he rushed around the room calling strange foreign names.

"Here, here, my good man" said I, trying to appear dignified, although I was forced to reach for a leg and ear simultaneously. "What is all this about? What in thunderstorm did you have in the case, and why did you hand it to my friend?"

"Watta Ia Mean? Watta Ia mean? I amma Signor Spangelli. I seea you friend playa de flute inna da orchestra anda I geeva him de casa to holda and wenna I comma back I no can fina heem. He eesa go anda I no find heem tilla I seea you comma inna here wid da casa. Oh mya Pinta, mya Rosa, mya Maria, My Pietro, my alla, dey alla gon. You have letta out my train flea."

The class that finished its work at Mayville High School last spring was first to adopt caps and gowns for commencement attire. This class of fifty-five members was the largest that ever graduated.

They presented a sun dial as a parting gift to the school. It has been placed on the lawn before the south entrance of the building.

Many members of the class are attending higher institutions of learning. A number of them have taken work at the County Normal and plan to teach next year.
